The title of Resolution No. 2015-76 was read by Village Clerk Hall.

Mayor Batos reviewed that the resolution was discussed at the last Council meeting. He added that if the resolution passed, he intended to present a copy to the Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) this week.

Public Comment:

April Olson, Conservancy of Southwest Florida, read a statement for the record in support of the resolution.

Councilmember Boesch inquired whether Ms. Olson would be appearing at the MPO with the statement that she read into the record. Ms. Olson responded affirmatively.

Councilmember Ribble moved to adopt Resolution No. 2015-76, seconded by Councilmember Errington, called and carried unanimously through a roll call vote.

- (E) Agreement with Urban3 and Consultant Joe Minicozzi, AICP

Village Manager Sarkozy reviewed that at the last Council meeting, Councilmember Ribble suggested that Council consider an agreement with consultant Joe Minicozzi, to help provide some guidance to the process of resolving some of the land use options in the Village Center; a proposal was received indicating a total fee in the amount of $5,175. He noted that Mr. Spikowski viewed this as being positive to the process.

Councilmember Ribble spoke regarding the word “mediation” in the proposal and the fact that the term “peer review” should have been used.

Council discussion followed regarding the time frame and Mr. Minicozzi’s expertise.

Public Comment:

Neale Montgomery, Pavese Law Firm, stated that she felt better knowing that this did not involve mediation; she was encouraged that the process would not be slowed down.

Jim Wallace, Genova, addressed concern regarding bringing in another planner and taking more time, read from written material presented, and encouraged Council to instruct Mr. Spikowski to present his schedule and outline.

Wayne Smith, Estero Community Improvement Foundation, stated that the foundation was very interested in this topic, they were impressed with Mr. Minicozzi, and they proposed to help develop the plan for the day as well as being willing to pay the cost of the project. Mayor Batos expressed appreciation and inquired whether there would be a problem with having someone else participating in the contract. Attorney Saunders responded that there would not be a legal problem if a private organization wanted to pay for the cost of a study; however, the contract would be in the control of the Village. He continued that it would be best for the consultant to present the bill to the Village, the Village would pay the bill, and accept reimbursement from the Foundation. Mayor Batos asked that Mr. Smith work out the arrangements with the Village Manager, with the understanding that this was a Village project.

Katie Sproul, Barron Collier Companies and Halstatt, LLC, stated that she was pleased mediation was not involved and believed that everyone had agreed upon a direction. She also stated that six developers put together a proposal. She suggested that the developers be permitted to put their proposal on the table at the same time as the peer review takes place.

Council discussion ensued regarding developers meeting individually with Councilmembers and the need to talk about the information publicly.

Councilmember Ribble moved to accept the agreement with Urban3 and Consultant Joe Minicozzi, as amended to read “peer review,” seconded by Councilmember Boesch, called and carried unanimously through a roll call vote.

Jim Wallace, Genova, addressed concern regarding the length of time the process has taken and urged Council to make a decision and move forward.

Neale Montgomery, Pavese Law Firm, inquired whether a workshop could be scheduled for December. Mayor Batos responded that the Village Manager would be working on the project and would see if it could be worked into the schedule.

Councilmember Errington stated that the initial planning occurred prior to the Council being in place; therefore, it has taken a while to know what was going on.
